

PRESS RELEASE

October 2021

WE COME BACK IN TALKING ABOUT ONCOLOGICAL PREVENTION, TOGETHER.

Diapath takes to heart the commitment to come back in talking to everyone about oncological prevention through a concrete initiative: a free for all educational webinar in collaboration with Surgery Doctor Adriana Lupo, Clinica del Mediterraneo Hospital, Ragusa and Prof. Mauro Giuseppe Mastropasqua, Anatomopathologist and Associated Professor at Aldo Moro University, Bari.

Covid has deeply damaged the Italian population and not only for its direct effects. The need to concentrate most of the resources against this enemy has made it hard to keep on performing prevention activities, diagnosis and therapy against cancer. Yet, premature diagnosis is fundamental to discover the cancer in time: screenings is the privileged instrument of massive prevention.

For Diapath, October and November represents the best period for the correct spread of THE CULTURE OF PREVENTION to all the population. These are, indeed, the months of the big international awareness campaigns on fight against breast and prostate carcinoma, #pinkoctober and #movember.

The event is for all on THURSDAY, 28th OCTOBER, 4:00 PM with an educational digital event entitled: «From prevention to breast cancer therapy: innovation and scenarios.»

Webinar attendance is for all and free, without any registration. It will be possible to follow in direct on Facebook page Diapath (@diapath).

The initiative will be repeated by masculine on 25th November when, again by following Facebook page Diapath, it will be possible to participate in an educational webinar dedicated to prostate cancer prevention, still open for all.
